Did you know?

You can contribute your unused vacation and annual leave to your Savings Plus account.

You can “catch up” for the previous years you didn’t contribute the maximum amount to your 457(b) account.

If your lump sum contribution will be your first contribution into a new 401(k) and/or 457(b) plan, you may qualify for a four-quarter fee waiver.

Last call for contributions

Once you retire, you can no longer contribute to your Savings Plus account, so boost your retirement savings now.

Age-Based Catch-Up

If you're age 50 or older, you can contribute up to an additional $7,500 annually.

Traditional 457(b) Catch-Up

If you didn't contribute the maximum contribution limit in the previous year, you can contribute an additional catch-up amount less than or equal to the current year maximum (up to 2x the maximum) in the 3 years prior to your normal retirement age.

Lump Sum Separation Pay

Contribute all or a portion of your Lump Sum Separation Pay into your Savings Plus accounts, which may allow you to maximize your contributions, defer your taxes, and take advantage of the flexible payment options available to you.

If the last day you work or separate from service is on or after November 1, you may defer your separation pay into your Savings Plus account into the following tax year. This allows you to potentially maximize contributions for both this and next year.

Savings Plus selects quality investment options appropriate for the needs of participants and maintains a disciplined review process.

Savings Plus is a state benefit you can keep after you leave employment. You'll continue to have access to all of the tools and resources you have now.

Our flexible distribution options offer access to your funds whenever you need them.

Savings Plus also helps you meet IRS required minimum distribution (RMD) requirements. If you have not taken a distribution that meets your RMD by the time you turn 72, the IRS will assess a 50% penalty.

Competitive fees

As a large program, Savings Plus is able to negotiate for lower fees not available to the general public.

Our total administrative fees are lower than the median peer group as a percentage of assets and on a dollar-per-participant basis,¹ and our administrative charge is only $6 per quarter.
